Dear Parent/Carer,

Re: A Level Geography Field Studies Trip: Monday 23rd June - Friday 27th June 2025

As part of the A Level Geography course, students must undertake field studies. The data collection programme can come from any element of the A Level course however, the Team have chosen two key areas to study:

1. Re-branding places
2. Coasts – protection/conflict

Swanage will be the first location where we will gather data, with an emphasis on the use of hard/ soft engineering for coastal protection. The second day will see the students consider the need for continued regeneration of Boscombe. On Wednesday, students take a trip to Studland to measure the impact of humans on a psamosere succession. On the penultimate day, students will break into working groups and conduct their own independent fieldwork data collection, which they will then be able to use back at school to produce their independent investigation / coursework.

The field studies week enables a 'hands on' approach to data collection. The main objective for the week is to be able to collect sufficient data to be able to produce the 4000-word individual geographical report, which is a compulsory element, with a 20% weighting for the entire A Level Geography course. It is therefore proposed that all A Level Geography students undertake this field studies programme from 23rd to 27th June 2023 in Swanage. I am aware this is during the Sixth Form lesson time, but the trip has been authorised by the Headmaster and, there is the expectation that students catch up on work missed in their other subject areas.

The cost of this field trip is £450 which includes four night's full board accommodation, at The Leeson House Field Studies Centre, transportation to and from Swanage, plus supporting journeys each day. Additional tutors and equipment throughout the week from the Education Centre are also included in the cost.
